NURTURING NATURE

SPICES THAT HEAL US

1 Let me start with haldi, which is called turmeric in English. It helps in improving our energy level and digestion. It helps in reducing body pain too.

2 Next, let us take methi, which is called fenugreek in English. You will be surprised to know that it helps me in keeping my sugar level and my body weight in control. I need to soak the methi seeds overnight and drink the water in the morning.

3 Jeera (cumin) seeds soaked in water overnight can also improve digestion and help cure sleeplessness.

4 You know, when you were babies and had gas in your tummy, I used to put heeng (asafoetida) water on your tummy to give you some relief.

5 Heeng can also help in controlling cough and cold.

6 Dalchini (cinnamon) and laung (clove) give relief when we have toothache till we can consult a dentist.

SPICES THAT HEAL US

1

Adrak (ginger) is another herb that can help us when we have cough and cold. It also gives relief from pain.

2

Do you know, ginger has been used in cooking for more than 4000 years? Even today, it is extensively used in cooking Indian food.

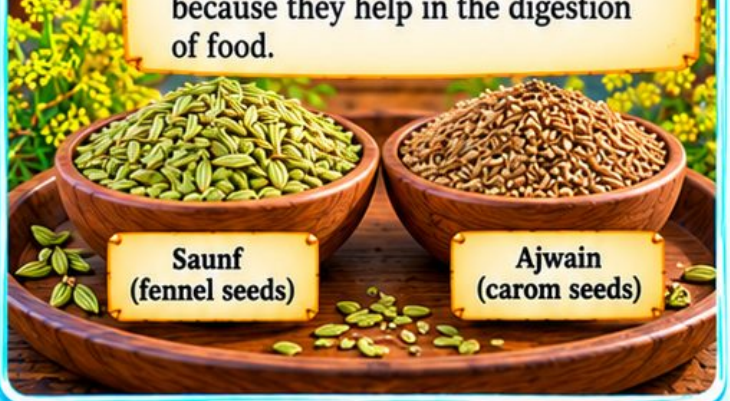

3

Kali mirch (black pepper) is also helpful in digestion and can give us relief from body pain.

4

You may have seen that at the end of a meal, saunf (fennel seeds) and ajwain (carom seeds) are served. It is because they help in the digestion of food.

5

Elaichi (cardamom) also helps us with digestion and respiratory troubles in addition to curing bad breath.

6

Now, go into the kitchen and try to identify these herbs and spices. And remember, you must consult an elder before you use them.

My love and aashirwaad to both of you!

Yours affectionately,
Daadi
